THE VISION

To set up an international entertainment company with a wide portfolio of entertainment brands

THE MISSION

Bringing people together with local experiences.

ArtNight was brought to life by Aimie-Sarah Carstensen-Henze and David Neisinger. The idea: An event concept for nights filled with creativity, art and interaction, together! Both Aimie and David are big city dwellers; they love the hustle and bustle and the immensity of possibilities that a big city offers.

At the same time, they discovered how hard it can be to meet new and interesting people in a relaxed atmosphere. ArtNight provides exactly that! The first event format of ArtNight is dedicated to painting and takes place in different bars and restaurants - currently in 47 cities in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and the Netherlands.

ArtNight creates a night of memories. With guidance by a local artist the guests paint or draw their own work of art, which they naturally can take home at the end of the event. While brushes are being swung on canvas, participants can make new contacts and communicate with others. At ArtNight, everything is about creativity in good company - it's supposed to be fun; to awaken or (re)discover long forgotten or unused talent and to develop it further. ArtNight is always organized with varied topics and artistic role models like: pop art à la Warhol, expressionism à la Kandinsky, abstract à la Jackson Pollock.

Booking is done online, the experience is completely real and offline. Nights that bring people together. Nights that are the beginning of new friendships. Nights that bring more life to cafés, bars and restaurants. Nights that show guests locations they have never been to. Nights that allow artists to share their knowledge and earn a little extra for their living. Nights that stimulate fantasy and creative power. Nights that bring hidden creative talent into the light. Nights that are simply fun.

The future isn't just about drawing. ArtNight plans experiences with creative handicrafts, designing small features for your home together and also nights about music or literature. Until the end of 2018, ArtNight will expand into more than 50 cities - so the ArtNight community will keep growing!
